MONDAY, AUGUST IN, 1861. THE GAME TO BE PLATER BY SECESSION. 1818.-When we think of all the successive steps in this iniquitous secession movement, the means which have been used to mislead and done the people, the wholesale lying and deception which the conspirators have resorted to in order to keep up a reign of terror whereever secession prevails, thereby depriving the people of all chance to know the real condition of public affairs, we are amazed that there are any Kentuckians who desire secession to oh tain a foothold in Kentucky. But there are quite a number who do, and many of the leaders in Kentucky are as unscrupulous and dishonest as their colleagues in the Cotton States. They do not hesitate to send out to the country any sort of fabricated tale in order to ex cite alarm and terrify the masses. The editor of the Cynthiana News has caught the disease which prevails amongst the spession leaders. In his last issue he deliberately puts forth these wholesale slanders upon the Union troops assembled in Garrard county

OTRAHES.—We have been informed that Lin-coln's soldiers new encamped in and about Gar-rard county, many of whom are from this and Pennavirania, having emigrated to this State in small numbers, in citizens garb, to keep down more of unaffending citizens and insult their wiv nd daughters, maltreat the old men, and appr tion of affairs brought about by the false cry o num. A day of retribution is near at hand ad wee to men in this State who have insti-

Now we venture the assertion that the Editor of the News received no such information as ho pretends to have received. He got the idea from his own secession brain; there is not a particle of truth in the charge he prefers against the Union troops in Garrard. These troops are all Kentuckians. They are honest, hard-working, industrious, sober men-a band of men of whom any State may be proud-who have chosen to assemble under the flag of their country and upon their own soil for the defence of it aud themselves from any invasion or ag-Most of them are the brave, hardy sons of the mountains who know their rights and dare maintain them on Kentucky soil or elsewhere. 5. That for the purpose of restoring peace, all patrintic men I hould abandon sectional parties when the national flag for their defence and protection. If Kentucky is to be invaded by Confederate soldiers because some of her people choose thus to act, let us know it now.

We never advised the mustering of the Union troops in Garrard county; we do not say that it was advisable; we don't know whether it was or not; but we do know that it was and is in violation of no law of either the Federal Government or of the State Government, and that it is regarded, by those engaged in it, as a necessary measure of self-defence. Then let those beware who would forcibly interfere with it. The existence of the troops in Garrard is a fixed fact, which no the troops in Garrard is a fixed fact, which no Magofin proclamation, however backed, can unfix. But there is no cause for excitement this case; the troops in question, unless they shall find occasion to repel upprovoked

The proposition is fiendish and devisish in the extreme.

None can pretend that those troops are ensamped in Garrard county in violation of any Poshral law. None but a fool would assert that they are violating any State law.

And we have therefore to say to the News and all others concerned that when they or persons from "any other State" shall attempt to drive from Kentneky soil "at the point of the bayoned" or otherwise Kentucky Union men, here assembled under the flag of their country for the define of the State in which they live, they may expect to have to meet in NASHVILLE, TENN., Aug. 17. President Davis has issued his Preclamation, notifying all residents of the Southern Confederacy, who do not acknowledge the authority of the same, to leave the Confederacy in forty days from the date of the Preclamation. It is dated the 1th of August. If they do not obey, they will be treated as alien enemies.

**Numberlie Union**.

We suppose the meaning of this is, that all the people of the seceding States are to be equired, within the period specified, to forwear allegiance to the United States and to wear allegiance to the Government of the Southern Confederacy, and, that every man is to be treated as an alien enemy who shall deline to do this.

The secessionists in Kentucky and everywhere will approve and appland this policy of the walls of Jericho. the Sonthern authorities. They will not hesithere perhaps unconditionally. Accordingly tate to say that every resident in the Confederate States who may refuse to swear allegiance to the Southern Government should have his property confiscated and be driven into exile. We think however they would have a keener United States Government were to ordain that that the Ilon. And beyond all question this policy will be carried out wherever there is disuniostrength enough to carry it out. Unquestionably a very large number of men in the South who do not in their hearts, and cannot in their onsciences, recognize the authority of the Confederate Government, will take the requisions and driven torth as exiles and wanderers upon the face of the earth, but there are others, and a good many others, who will not. said "no" without waiting for the noes to be and therefore we may expect to see, within the called. They are too brave and manly to "enter the homes of ineflensive citizens and insult their wives and danghters, and maltreat the old men, and appropriate provisions, &c., to their own use without remuneration." No part of these villainous charges is true, and all men should know they are not. It is all the elements of character which constitute the true and genuine Kentnekian, the Union troops in Garrard and Lincoln counties will compare most favorably with the like number of secessionists pulsed from any portion of Kentucky. The Liditor of the Cynthiana News would no more call one of them, to his face, "an unbung aroundrel," than he would dip his head in molton iron.

Every word of the letter above is true. Its author is thoroughly reliable. What a condition of things it discloses. Two hundred and thirty Union men, refugees by night through the mountains from three counties of East Tennessee, encamped in the woods or fields a mile from Montinelle, as homeless as the winds heaven, and a hundred and sixty more or neir way from the same counties, all resolute ountaineers, guilty of no crime, and seeking an asylum from oppression and outrage at the hands of the Confederate troops quartered in and around what were lately their homes. East Tennessee may be subjugated, but subjugation eems likely to fall little shurt of desolation. The forcible science of Col. George Bridges pon the soil of Kentucky by a company o cavalry from Tennessee has been duly set forth in our columns before. It is a deed which Governor Magoffin cannot pass by without shame to his high office. But it is only one of a series of deeds that Tennessee and Tennessecans have been perpetrating for months past against the sovereignty of Kentucky and the rights of Kentuckians. A Kentucky boat seized upon the Mississippi river and her whole cargo detained and most of it confiscated-all Kentucky navigation and commerce driven from that river-a Kentneky steamer seized upon a river in Kentucky without having been for a moment out of the limits of Kentucky-Kentucky cannon and small arms stolen at night from a Kentucky town by Tennesseeans and carried away to Tennessee-the Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company's rolling stock seized by Tennessee without even the pretext of any other law than that of forcethe robbery of $11,000 of the money of the Kentucky hanks from Adams's Express-and lawless incursions of 'Tennessee troops into Kentucky to abduct by the strong arm whomso ever they please as in the cases of the soldier at Franklin and Col. Bridges near the Cumberland Gaj; these are a part and only a part of the outrages committed by Tennessee and Tennesseeans against Kentucky-and, while we would counsel that our people should bear all that a people ought ever to bear for the sake of peace, we say that it is getting to be high

Kentucky is slow to act. She has rested quietly under great wrongs, but, whenever Lincoln's coldiers invalle her soil, then the tocsin of war will be sounded.—Courser.

When Gen. Rousseau commenced recruiting Kentucky soldiers for Camp Joe Holt, you, oh Courier, proclaimed it a Lincoln invasion of Kentucky soil, just as much an invasion as if Lincoln had marched an army in upon us, and you have repeated the same thing in suh stance lifty times since, but we have not heard "the tocsin of war sounded," and our ears are pretty good-though not quite so long as yours. To be sure we have heard your blowing and pulling efforts upon the tin-horn of war, but they have not been quite so potent as the performances upon the rams' horns before

The Courier of Saturday publishes ar nonymous letter from Louisville to the New York Herald and assumes that its statements are correct, and that the views of the writer are those of the Union party here. We suppose then that if, when the Southern States asserted their independence, the Government at Washington had not refused to recognize their action, in other words had recognized their independence, it wouldn't in the Courier's opinion have abdirated its authority over them.

The secessionists of Kennucky have for nonths licen working desperately to get the state into war. Failing to do it by any other neans, they are now trying to accomplish the hiject by pretending to be great friends of veace. Now don't they cut a pretty figure? The people in the Cotton States say hey are lighting for freedom. They may well do so, for they have lost all the freedom they ever had. But they had better light the destroyers of their freedom than those who would gladly restore it to them. Nor have they published Mr. Crittenden's ear

THE PIECE MELTING -The outrageous use of the names of Messrs, Wm. P. Campbell, Daniel Spalding, Wm. Terry, and D. B. Leight, as a part of the Executive Committee | Bail in $100 for three months. of the discomfitted accessionists at the Courthouse, demands an apology. The gentlemen of whom we speak are all uncompromising Union men, and the secessionists undertook to make tools of them by a series of false pretences. They knew that the meeting was to be at the Court-house and they intended to be at it. The three first we have heard from, and some of them were assured that the Ilon. Jas. II. J. Monsch. Continued until Monday. Guthrie was to be on the Committee; it was urged upon all of them that there would be a large number of Union men at the meeting: that they were Christians and ought not to refuse to serve their country. It was urged on the last named one of the three, that the other gentlemen had promptly agreed to serve, while they indignantly declare that they never gave any such consent. Each of these gentlemen would have felt it as an insult, to be asked to lend his name to a secession brat, dressed up in Union clothes. Neither of them that they were serving Union men, and the Union cause. But it was scandalous in these accession wire-workers to procure names under false representations, and then run away from the owners of the names, who remained and worked with their Union brethren. It was wrong to put those names to a use, which the owners feel to be degrading to them. When the secessionists ran away to a meeting of their own, they should not have used names they had cajoled for a Union meeting. It is a pretty piece of business to ask such Union men as W. I'. Campbell, Daniel Spalding, and Wm. Terry to hold the carriage steps, while Mr. Worthington loads the vehicle with contraband articles, preparatory to getting up on the hammer-cloth to drive the carriage off, laughing in his sleeve.

Long Speeches Unpleasant.—When a standard was presented to Col. Bornside's R. I. regiment at Washington, the M. C. speaking for the ladies who gave it made a long and tedious speech. Col. II., who hates long speeches, stood, with head uncovered, waiting with ell the patience he could muster, the conclusion of the harangue, upon which, turning to the speaker, he remarked: "Very much obliged to you—very much obliged to you—very much obliged to you—fall in—fall in," and mundiately the regiment was on the march.

Washington, Angust 16.
The disaffection in various regiments is in consequence of the supposed enlishment for three months. Those soldiers who came thopen mutiny, Gen. McDowell decidel should be sent to the Tortugas. Gen. McClellan and Scott endorsed the decision and the President ordered it carried into effect.

[Herald's Correspondence,] The Anticipated Attack on Washington.

Washington, Aug. 16.
Numberless incidents tend to show that the ebels are on the eve of attacking our lines. Last ight it was discovered that the rebel lines had night it was discovered that the rebel lines had been advanced in all directions toward; the Potomac. Their force at Earrfax C. II, has been largely increased. Heavy forces have been thrown out on all the roads. A large body is proceeding towards the Point of Rocks. Their southing parties are in the insuling and the proceeding towards the Point of Rocks. scouting parties are in the insmediate vicinity of our line along the whole extent of the Potomac. The rebels in Bultimore to-day received intelligence that the rebels were then marching upon Washington, and the information was published in an extra. It is thought that they were only a little present.

Gen. McClellan Gives his Opinion. Gen. McClellan Gives his Opinion.
Gen. Scott does not think the attack will be nade, but Gen. McClellan, who is a classmate of leauregard's and is familiar with his nucle of ombination, is well convinced that he will make a attack upon some point on the Potomac.

A Regiment of Negroes. A Regiment of Negroes.

One of a regiment of negroes who took part in the battle of Bull Run, at which time he made his escape and has since windered about until he got within our lines, ascerts that there are in the rebel army in Virginia 2,000 or 3,000 orgrees armed with Hall's rifles. Most of them are from further South than Virginia. The negroes from down South have been tought that they would be furthered if they fell into the hinds of the Bridomsts, but those picked up in Virginia have a lifferent idea and would all run away if they could.

The Herald Correspondent Speculates.
It is said the rabels have nearly 100,000 men between here and Richmend. They have not the means to provide for the immense army. They know that muler McClellan our army is lecoming daily more formidable in numbers and discipline, while their forces are getting more disorganized and demoralized by delay and the poor prospect of provisions for their comfort and maintenance during the winter. They cannot afford to wait for the result of Gan. Scott's plan of starving them out, and tien. McClellan's programme to have the army perfectly discuplined and prepared before he begins to advance. They must either fight now or see their army melt away from necessity without another blow being struck. That an attack will be made within a very short time is generally concided. The Herald Correspondent Speculates.
